

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org

Media Contact: Kathy Covey
(503) 710-8373 (cell)
(503) 925-8903 ext. 228 (office)
kathyc@catadoptionteam.org
catadoptionteam.org

Is Increase Demand in Free Cat Food Handouts a Barometer of Oregon's Economy?

(September 15, 2010) — A sign of the economic hardships still suffered by Oregonians could be measured in the increased demand on a local pet food bank. On Sunday, September 5, over 2,700 pounds of dry cat/kitten food was given out by the Cat Adoption Team in Sherwood, OR.

CAT distributes free cat food and litter on the first Sunday of every month.

- Since June 2008, over 48,117 pounds of cat food has been given out to cat owners who are struggling financially.
- In 2010 alone, over 23,000 pounds has gone out (or almost half of the total given out).
- This is an average of 2,617.7 pounds every month. For perspective, the average male giraffe weighs in at 2,500 pounds; a male buffalo at 2,600 pounds; or 2007 Ford Focus at 2,600 pounds. So that's a lot of bags of cat food.
- The first upward spike in cat food distributions came November 2008 after it was announced that the country entered a recession.
- Growth in demand exceeds 624 percent since the cat food bank opened.
- And the food handed out is donated by animal lovers in the community.

“The cat food bank is our unscientific barometer of Oregon's economic status,” said Kathy Covey, CAT's cat food bank manager. “Just this month we helped 18 new clients, on top of the 123 current clients who also came. We keep hoping the monthly distribution will drop to under 2,000 pounds a month just to indicate things may be getting better. However, we don't think that will happen until Oregon's unemployment rate decreases drastically.”

CAT's cat food bank started with the specific mission to feed the pet cats of cat owners struggling and receiving some sort of government assistance. “We wanted to find a way to help them keep their pet cats and not have to relinquish the cats to a shelter for any reason,” remarks Covey.

For cat owners in need of assistance:

- Open the first Sunday of every month
- From 12 – 2 pm
- At CAT's Sherwood shelter (14175 SW Galbreath Dr., Sherwood)
- Providing one month's supply of food to feed up to 4 pet cats
- Cat/kittens must be spay/neutered

For those wanting to help fellow pet owners:

- Donate unopened, unexpired bags of cat or kitten food (any brand, any size)
- Donate containers of scoopable litter and/or cans of wet cat food
- Make a monetary donation to help CAT

More information is available at catadoptionteam.org/catfoodbank.

-30-

The Cat Adoption Team (CAT) is the Pacific Northwest's largest non-profit, feline-only shelter. CAT was the first animal shelter in Oregon with its own full service veterinary hospital on site. CAT's mission is to work with the community to save the lives of unwanted, homeless, sick, and injured cats and kittens by offering shelter, adoption, foster, hospice, spay/neuter, and veterinary services to end needless feline euthanasia. CAT will find homes for over 3,300 felines this year. As a 501(c)(3) publicly-supported charity, CAT relies on the generous support of the public and volunteers.

14175 SW Galbreath Drive ~ Sherwood OR 97140 ~ (503) 925-8903 ~ catadoptionteam.org