Post-Operative Pain Management

Although we make every effort to minimize post surgical discomfort, some pain is to be expected with any surgical procedure. Cats have a varied post-operative response. Some may demonstrate minimal discomfort, while others may show a more extreme response. CAT recommends post-operative pain management to be sent home with your pet. The cost for pain medication is $10. Please indicate your preference for take-home pain medications below. Initial one:

I accept post-operative pain management and agree to pay the additional fees for recommended medication(s).

I decline post-operative pain management
